

Message from Mr Maltby

11th March 2022

Good morning,

This week, our Year 11 students have been sitting their mock exams and our Year 10 students have been going to their work experience placements. The feedback I have received for both of these important events has been extremely positive. I want to take this opportunity to commend our older students on their hard work, commitment and resilience.

In our lower year groups I have enjoyed returning to school assemblies this week to nurture the talent and enthusiasms in our wonderful students. I am also now able to confirm that the Academy will have a full year group cohort arriving in September 2022 (alongside a waiting list for this year group). It is really encouraging to see growing confidence in our school from our local community.

Finally, I had a very positive meeting yesterday about the development project which was secured last year. In this meeting, a timescale was agreed which will lead to the development of a new inclusion hub and Science classroom for September 2022. I am keen to ensure that alongside our students benefiting from these significant projects, we also share the new Science laboratory with our local feeder schools; enabling all younger students in our community to experience Science at secondary school before Year 7.

I wish you all a lovely weekend in the Spring sunshine,

Tom Maltby
