To achieve the 'English Baccalaureate', you will need to choose one Humanity (either History or Geography) and one Modern Foreign Language (French or German). Please refer to the options booklet for more information about the English Baccalaureate.

In future years, most pupils will be required to study either French or German, as currently being proposed by the Government.

Declaration I have checked and agree this application. However, I understand that the Academy must take into account a wide range of issues when allocating places and cannot guarantee to meet all requests. I understand that if there are insufficient students opting for a course it may not run.
